Pretty is that Pretty does.

BY VICE-CARY.

The spider wears a plain brown dress,
And she is a steady spinner;
To see her, quiet as a mouse,
Going about her silver house.

You would never, never, never guess
The way she gets her dinner!

She looks as if no thought of ill

In all her life had stirred her;

But while she moves with careful tread,
And while she spins her silken thread,

She is planning, planning, planning still
The way to do some murder!

My child, who reads this simple lay
With eyes down-drop and tender,
Remember the old proverb says,
That pretty is which pretty does,

And that worth does not go nor stay
For poverty nor splendor.

Tis not the house, and not the dress
That make the saut or sinner;
To see the spider sit and spin,
Shut with her webs of silver,

You would never, never, never guess
The way she gets her dinner.

"A Little Child shall Lead them."

Two days before Louisa died, she was only seven years old. As her father and mother were seated by the bed, she asked for her last Sabbath-school paper. It was handed to her, when in a clear, sweet voice, she read the piece which has gone the rounds of the papers, "My father drinks."

While reading it, her father bowed his head and wept. Then she said, "Father, don't drink any more, will you?"

He could scarcely speak for weeping, when she again said, "Father, promise me you won't drink any more liquor?"

He did promise. She smiled so sweetly.

On the day of her death, she prayed a fervent prayer for her father, mother, brother, and little sister. Then she prayed God to bless her three teachers.

Her mother asked who she meant.

She replied, "The superintendent, my Sunday-school teacher and Miss Rachel."

She sweetly fell asleep in Jesus. And her three teachers all declare that they are paid for a lifetime's work in leading her to Jesus.

Since her death both parents have attended the house of God; the father has left off drink. Both express the hope that they will meet this dear child in glory.—Sunday-School Times.

A Child's sayings.

Little Clara Heathcote of Springville, N.Y., about four years of age, sometime after listening to the Bible story of Jonah, repeated the substance of it to her father, saying at the close that, "the whale spilt up Jonah and never bit a mouthful out of him."

The same little girl, while playing one night, asking the Lord to care for her parents and the other members of the family, added, "But you needn't take care of me, because I can take care of myself."

That is a beautiful thought which a minister, in a recent public address, embodied, as follows: "Where is Jesus Christ?" was once asked of a child. "He lives in our alley now," was the reply; for the boy had learned that Christ is where he has friends to serve him.

dollar put in the savings bank, and the first mile traveled on a journey, are all important things. How many a poor outcast is now creeping and crawling his way through the world, who might have held up his head and prospered if, instead of putting off his resolutions of amendment, he had only made a beginning!

A YOUNG SARSAPARILLA is a concentrated extract of the dried root, so combined with other substances of greater alterative power as to afford an effectual antidote for diseases sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. Such a remedy is surely wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish this end must prove, as this has, of infinite service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints: Scrofula, Serpulent swellings and Sores, Skin Diseases, Pimplas, Pustules, Ulcers, Eruptions, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Fry-diseases, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Seid Head, Ringworm, etc.

JAMES VICK, BOSTON, MASS.

Barred Court, June 1, 1856.

Gentlemen—I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity to bear testimony to the virtues of DR. WISTAR'S BAL-

SAM OF WILD CHERRY.

I have used it—when I have occasion for any remedy for Coughs, Colds, or Sore Throat—for many years, and never, in a single instance, has it failed to relieve and cure me. I have frequently been very lame on Saturday, and looked forward to the delivery of two sovereigns on the following day with soliciting; but by a liberal use of the Balsam my lameness has invariably been removed, and I have preached without difficulty.

I command it to my brethren in the ministry, and to public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the bronchial troubles to which we are peculiarly exposed.

Unhappily misused, I send you this testimony, which you are at liberty to use in any way you choose. Perhaps the Balsam does not suit all persons alike, but it always removes my hoarseness, and fits me for the minister's hard working day—the Sabbath.

Very truly yours, FRANCIS LOMOND.

FURTHER UNREQUERED TESTI-

MONY.

PAINTER, May, April 28, 1861.

Messrs. SETH W. FOWLER & CO.

Gentlemen—seeing numerous certificates

in the Maine Farmer endorsing the merits of the Great Lung Remedy, WISTAR'S BAL-

SAM OF WILD CHERRY, I am induced,

and I take great pleasure in giving publicity

to the great cure it accomplished in my family in 1856. During the summer of that year my son, Henry A. Atchens, now Postmaster in Fairfield, Somerset County, Me.,

was attacked with spitting of blood, cough,

weakness of lungs, and general debility, so much so that our family physician declared

him to have a "SEVERE CONSTITUTION."
